Dear Huckleberry Friends and Neighbors,

Truly, there are no better folks on Earth than those found in Huckleberry Country. The past two months have been filled with difficult personal challenges; however, I have been strengthened through the grace and understanding of you -- our readers, advertisers, and staff. From the depth of my heart, I thank you all.

My Father passed away September 4 in Texas. I made it to his bedside 5 hours before he passed away. As a military officer, my Dad proudly served his country for 25 years. He was buried with Full Military Honors (flag ceremony, Taps, and gun salute) September 10.

Following his retirement from the military, my Dad was a High School Special Education teacher and worked for the American Red Cross. From his wheelchair, he volunteered tirelessly for his church, the Knights of Columbus, and Bugles Across America. He was also a dedicated lay minister for the prison system. 13 years ago he bought for me my first computer and lit a fire under me to launch Huckleberry Press. He was my #1 fan. He was my mentor.

Last week, we nearly lost my Mother. Again, I flew to Texas. I kept constant vigil over my Mom night and day from a chair in her room during her 6-day stay in the hospital. I have spent 7 of the last 9 weeks in Texas operating Huckleberry Press from a laptop and cell phone. My husband, Doug, has been my strength and right hand. ...well, he and Jesus, that is. The Huckleberry Press crew did an amazing job of keeping things going smoothly in my absence. The folks at Griffin Publishing in Spokane did an amazing job supporting my schedule to print the paper on time. Two extraordinary people in particular went above and beyond the call of duty to keep the presses going and the world turning: Marilynn Newbill and Vickie Albertsen.

I was truly humbled by the expressions of compassion from everyone who sent condolences. I am grateful to you all.

Last week's issue contained absolutely no "Chuckleberries." I did my best getting the paper put together under dim lighting from a chair in the hospital at 2:00 a.m. approximately 2,300 miles away. You all have my apologies.

Here's the good news: if you are a fellow "Chuckleberry" lover, you'll love this issue. I've included extra chuckles, giggles, and snorts for your enjoyment.

If you are a business owner, please call me. I want your business and I want to hear from you. I am offering discounted advertising packages and am ready to give you the full power of Huckleberry Press. I want to be the only advertiser you need -- backed by the best-in-the-industry staff. I know my Dad would not want me to offer you anything less.

I'm Your Huckleberry,
Victoria Caudle, Managing Editor
